THOUSANDS TO MARCH ON SATURDAY,

MANY ARRANGEMENTS HAVE BEEN COMPLETED FOR THE REPUBLICAN DEMONSTRATION. Twenty-one thou and silk flag canes have already been specially purchased for the parade on Saturday. This by no means represents the number of men who will be in line, for many of the organizations have been supplied for some time. From the present ap-pearances, this will be the largest business men's parade that has ever been seen here. It is impossible to make any estimate of the number of men who will participate now, as so many changes have been and are continually being made. Colonel C. B. Mitchell and his staff met yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and his orders, so far as they were ready, were read to them. The Executive also met and completed the arranging of some of the details which turned over to them for A new stand will be built, which will be just opposite the Democratic stand now in Madison but the committee has accepted the Democrats to use their stand. will pay their share of the cost erecting and tearing it down. The invited guests of the business men who will review the arade will meet a committee in pariots Nos. 1, 2 and at the hotel, and be escorted to the stand by a guard of honor. They will meet there at 2 p. tharp, so that they can get to the stand before the head of the procession appears. The guests invited are all the Republican candidates, the members of National, State and County committees, and many prominent gentlement. There will also be the never-falling feature of all Republican assemblies, the ladies, a large number of whom will be present, and seats on the grand stand will be reserved for them. Business men generally will close their places of ess early so that their clerks and employes can get away in time to take part in the parade, and the Republicans to the Stock Exchange have united in a request to bankers and brokers to close up early mough on Saturday afternoon to let their clerks get away in time to parade. Several of the trades will close at noon, thus giving their employes ample time to get ready. There will be profuse decorations all along the line of march, Besides the Union League Club and the Republican Club of New-York buildings, the Rethe publican National Readquarters, and the headquarters of the various clubs along Broadway, will swing out

THE INHABITANTS WILL SHOW THEIR COLORS. Private dwellings in Fifth-ave, will likewise show the sympathy of those who occupy them by putting out the stars and stripes. One of the largest organizations will carry Protection umbrellas, and drill has been gotien up which will be a decided novelty. Of course the umbrellas will be opened when the organization is passing under a Free Trade banner, simply for Protection. The longsho will make about as fine a thisplay as any in the line. Ther will turn out 2,500 strong in command of W. H. Rughes. With this organization will be steam boats gally trimmed and manned by 100 men in sailors' garb, while the horses which will draw those lodie will be led by sulleaments.

LAWYERS AND STUDENTS IN THE LINE. This invitation to the lawyers was sent out last night by James M. Varnum, the marshal of the lawyers' organization: "All members of the bar favoring the steetion of Harrisen and Morten are invited to join in the parade on Saturday. To the Graduates of Columbia College; We can never forget the stirring campaign of '84 and the prominent part which Columbia took in that gallant fight. The Columbia College Republican Club desire our cooperation on the occasion of the great parade of November 3, and it is to be loved that all the graduates of Columbia whose sympathes and allilations are with the grand old Republican party, will take part in that parade. Graduates will full in at the same place as the undergraduates, which will be hereafter asmonuced. If you will take part, kindly send your name and address to F. A. part in the parade are requested to meet at No. 20 Brost vay at 11 a. m., on Saturday. Colonel Floyd Clarkson will be the marshal of this contingent.

The Sandy Hook and River and Harbor Pilots have signified their intention of turning out in the great parade, rain or shine, 400 strong. If it rains they will wear sou'westers and pea-jackets; if clear, silk hats and broadcloth suits. No umbrellas will be carried under any circumstances.

The various Republican business men's organizations throughout the city show no relaxation in their work for Harrison and Morton and protection, and each day's results bring them fresh encouragement Just at present next Saturday's great parade is the all-absorbing topic of conversation among them, and the arrangements for its triumphant success are absorbing all of their surplus energy. There is no doubt in the minds of those who will participate but what it will be a demonstration cellpsing in numbers and significance anything thus far seen in this campaign or the closing days of '84's flerce struggle. In point of size and celebrity, the Dry-Goods Men's Club undoubtedly occupies the leading position, and they mean to confirm anew their title to that distinction by next Saturday's work. Their enrolled membership already exceeds 7,000, and it is expected that large additions will be made to this number. thousand blue silk badges have been provided, and were being distributed at the club's headquarters, No. 324 Broadway, yesterday. They will have three bands and two drum corps, and they will make music wherever they r) for Harrison and Morton and protection. Major William E. Webb, of Dunham, Buckley & Co., will be in command, and form this section of the parade in four divisions.

Vice-President William B. Fuller consider years ago. this estimate a very moderate one. In speaking of other features of the campaign work, he said: "We have been very much gratified and encouraged to see the change that has taken place during the last three weeks in the personnel and complexion of the atten-dance at our noonday meetings. At first it was the heads of houses, manufacturers, and other employers, who made up the larger part of the audience, but now it is the clerks, mechanics and wags-earners of the neighborhood who predominate. We are glad to see them and do what we can to make them feel at home. They carry away documents by the thousand every day, and manifest the liveliest interest in the questions at issue.

GREAT ACTIVITY AMONG THE CLUBS Another association which has been doing yeoman service is the Hatters and Furriers' Club, which also takes in the millinery trade, and is virtually another braffeh of the dry-goods interest. The club prides them, and attends strictly to business, without inloing in any horse-play. The same marked increase wage-earning classes have been noticed at their noonday meetings. The double store they occupy at No Greene-st. will hold 1,500 people, but every day the crowd extends into the middle of the stree

At the coming parade they believe that they will turn out 2,000 strong, and make the Democratic fur fly like snowflakes before a December gale. All business men of the West Side, from Grand to Eighth sts., will be welcome to join them in this praiseworthy recreation. Marshal E. V. The Insurance Men's Harrison and Morton Club is also aglow with enthusiasm, and it is just the kind of a fire that no one of them fears or is anxious to put out. At their Monday meetings workingmen are in the majority, and every day increasing numbers are turned away because of lack of accommodation.

It has been the laboring men mostly who have carried away the 500 pounds of documents thus far discounted to the second of th tributed. New recruits are coming in daily in squads of twenty-five or fifty at a time.

The participants in next Saturday's demonstration from this club will not number less than 1,800, and it is authoritatively stated that at least 500 of them assisted in giving Grover his first term. Coleael W.

D. L. Bouton will serve as marshal. at 12 o'clock on Saturday to give their employes an

In response to a letter soliciting his attendance with the Republican Club of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange on the occasion of next Saturday's parade, William S. Vernam has replied with a handsome American flag. In presenting this "insignia of our party" to the club, Mr. Vernam expresses his sympathy with the Republican party, regrets that as he is not a member of the Exchange he cannot parade with the club, and announces that E. Refore anything else was done, the old days, when they helped to sing Harrison songs and roil the big ball "the country through," were talked over. Then ex-Judge Robert H. Shannon was elected president, William Dunning vice-president, and Hamilia Blake secretary and treasurer. The present curoiment was reported to number 110 members, and it was confidently predicted that enough more would join to enable them to turn out 250 strong. Among the nembers are two venerable gentlemen who are respectively eighty-eight and nimety-three years of age. They will ride in carriages, as will also those who are physically disabled, but all of the others will march on foot. They will hold another meeting tomorrow, at the rooms of the Dry Goods Harrison and Morton Club, 324 Broadway.

NOTES OF THE CANVASS.

A number of Republican Clubs paraded last night in the Eighth Ward of Newark, the largest in area in the city. WARNER MILLER IN TROY. HIS CANVASS OF THE STATE COMPLETED.

BISHOP ANDREWS ON THE PLATFORM WITH THE ADVOCATE OF HIGH LICENSE-APPROVING THE REPUBLICAN MOVEMENT AGAINST

THE LIQUOR SALOONS. THY THERGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNG. 1

Troy, Oct. 31 .- Warner Miller finished to-day, so far as the interior of the State is concerned, the campaign he has made as the Espublican candidate for Covernor. He spoke to enormeds crowds yesterday at Cobleskill, in Schoharie County, and at Schenectady, in Schenectady County. To-day he made The Republican employers and manufacturers in two speeches within the limits of Reusselaer County. at Hoosic Falls and at Troy. He now goes to New York City, where he will remain to the close of the campaign, making four or five speeches a night.

Hoosic Falls is a striking example of the prosperity that has come to the United States since the Repub lican Congress passed a protective tariff. The village is filled with manufactories, the chief being that of ex-Congressman Walter A. Wood, who employs Miller, upon arriving at Hoosle Falls this afternoon. was welcomed by Mr. Wood, by ex-Assemblyman B. F The most noticeable feature of the meeting was clergyman present was Bishop Andrews, of the odist Episcopal Church. Inasmuch as the Prohibitionists have been denouncing Mr. Miller as committing a sin as a member of the Methodist Church when he advocates the passage of a high license law. the presence of Bishop Andrews on the same plat-form with Mr. Miller is remarkable. It may be said. also, that the palpable approval by the bishop of that portion of Mr. Miller's speech in which he and pealed to his heavers to help the Republican party in pealed to his hearers to help the Republican party in its effort to pass a high license law clearly showed that the leading clergymen of the Methodist Church do not second the words used by the Prohibitionists against Mr. Miller. Resides Bishop Andrews, there were also present on the platform the Rev. Mr. Stark, of the Methodist Episcopal Church; the Rev. Mr. Robitson, of the Eaplist Church; the Rev. Mr. Robitson, of the Eaplist Church; the Rev. Henry Grayham, presiding elder of the Saratoga District of the Methodist Episcopal Church; the Rev. Henry Grayham, presiding elder of the Saratoga District of the Methodist Episcopal Church; the Rev. Br. Nichols, for many years rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and the Rev. Father Waldron, of the Roman Catholic Church.

Mr. Miller, in his speech, pointedly referred to the advantages that Hoosle Falls had derived from the farmers present how much more valuable the home market had been to them since the protected manufactories grew my in Hoosic Falls. He then made an cloquent appeal for high license on moral grounds. He closed his speech with a criticism of Governor Hill for vetoing the Saxton Ballot Reform bill, remarking that the Governor had misinformed people in his Cooper Institute speech, when he asserted that the Hill dd not provide for a servet ballot.

Mr. Miller came to Troy this evening and addressed 4,000 citizens in Rand's Opera House. In his speech he expressed gratification over the fact that the Republicans of Troy by their energy had succeeded in striking off the registration lists 1,500 names illegally registered, which would have been used by Democratic repealers to cast votes for Cieveland and Hill.

Thompsonville, Conn., Oct. 31 (Special) -The carpet weavers were all out to hear Senator Platt to-night and they were convinced if they were never convinced before of the absolute necessity of continuing a policy of Protection. The Republican State ticket will be enthusiastically supported here, and prospects for the whole ticket are most flattering. Norfolk, Conn., Oct. 31 (Special).-Norfolk is an

Every nention of the bill was roundly hissed, and several Irish-Americans present manifested their determinaion to bolt Cleveland in a manner that has caused alarm among the Democratic leaders. Senator Hawley is confident that Connecticut will be all right on Tuesday, and he is an old campaigner.

Norwich, Conn., Oct. 31 (Special).-Mr. Blaine will make the first of his Connecticut speeches in this city on Thursday afternoon, when a monster mass-meeting will be held in Williams Park. He was held in $5,000 ball for examination on Saturday. District Attorney kidgway said he would lay the matter before the Grand Jury on Monday. Aaron Hertzberg also gave similar ball. The six men who were arrested with them were committed to jail. several of them made voluntary statements in regard to the way they were induced to go from this city at the instance of the Hertzbergs to register at Coney Island. They denied that John Y. McKane had any thing to do with the matter. In court ex-Judge Mor ris said that he had learned that a warrant had been issued for the arrest of Mr. McKane, but it was not to be served until the morning of election day, to keep him away from the polls. Mr. Mckane said that he knew nothing of the registration of any one illegally in his town and he was ready to do all in his power to prevent fraudulent voting. "Boss" McLaughlin was in close consultation with District-Attorney Ridge way before and during the proceedings in court. The animus of the effort to connect Mr. McKane with the matter is evident from the fact that he and his followers have decided to support the Republican National, State and local tickets, and he has resisted all overtures made him by the Democratic leaders.

"A similar inquiry," he said, "was made by ex-Judge Neison J. Waterbury, representing either the Democratic National Committee or the County Democracy, last evening and I gave him the same answer. He was sorry he eve gut into the case, and said he was foolish that he did not get out of it somehow. The attempts of the Democratic managers to be little the statements about the importation of 82,000 dozen hats from England and Belgium have been met by investigations that only serve to show the magnitude of these importations. In Orange the story has been scoffed at, it being claimed that not even partly finished hats could possibly be imported at a profit. This claim has just received a knock down blow by the receipt in Orange of a large lot of bats, sized, blocked, colored, and pounced, and only needing finishing to be turned out on the market Puff & Youmans, of Orange Valley, have received over Puff & Youmans, of Grange Valley, have received over 3,500 dozen to finish for a Baltimore manufacturer and the first instalment of 500 dozen is now in their shop undergoing the inishing touches. Orange hatters are startled out of their spathy by this proof of the original claim and something like a stampede to the party of pro-tection is now in progress. PRISE--KENNAN'S SUCCESSFUL SERIES.

"The growth of THE CENTURY MAGAZINE, although in one sense phenomenal, is but the natural result of a quick appreciation of what the reading public demands, and of a studied effort to gather together the very best that writers, and engravers can supply." It has always been the desire of the conductors of THE CENTURY that it should be of its class; that whatever other publication might be desirable in the family circle, THE CENTURY could not be neglected by those who wish to keep abreast of the times in all matters pertaining to culture. Its unprecedented circulation would seem to be the response of the public to this desire and intention of the conductors of the magazine; and laten would seem to be the response of the public to this desire and its conductors. The 37th volume, nineteenth its spoularity again lays upon the magazine the burdon of ever-increasing excellence. The 37th volume, nineteenth year, begins with the Nevember number, now ready, and the following is a list of seme of the more important features of the year, most of which begin in this number:

Engraved by Timothy Cole, who is recognized as the leading imagazine engraver of the world, and who has already spent four years in the European galleries reproducing upon wood for Tim Cexterny this acries of the most valuable pictures in the Oni World. This is the most important artistic work upon which the magazine has ever entered, and in order that the fullest educational results may be derived from the pictures, they will be published in historical order, with brief critical napers by W. J. STILLMAN and Mr. Cole. The first of these, with engravings and notes on the Byzan-Unes and Cimabue, is in November.

The Siberian Exile System.

Lincoln in the War.

The Romance of Dollard.

A serial novelette by a writer new to readers of THE CENTURY, Mrs. Mary Hartwell, Catherwood, begins in the November number, with a preface by Francis Parkman, the historian. It is a stery of devotion and heroism, based upon events in the early history of Canada. The author, as Mr. Parkman says, "Is a plouser in what may be called a new departure in American fiction." Hustrated by Henry Sandham.

Bible Scenes Illustrated.

Occasional illustrated papers, by Mr. Edward L. Wilson, on Bibls subjects treated in the International Sunday-School Lessons, will appear from time to time during the year, and there will be articles on existing monuments connected with the Old and New Testament Darrative, by various writers. A paper by the Rev. Charles S. Robinson, D.D., on "Where was 'the Place called Calvary'!" with striking illustrations, appears in this November number, and there is also a timely essay on "The New Reformation," by the Rev. Lyman Abbott, D.D.

Pictures of the Far West.

A series of full-page engravings from original drawings by Mary Hallock Foote may be expected in each number of THE CENTURY for the coming year. These designs are the artistic result of a long residence in the far West, and are characteristic of the landscape and customs of a large part of the country. The first picture, "Looking for Camp," is in November.

Contains, besides the serial features already mentioned, an article on "The Guilds of the City of London," illustrated by Joseph Penskill. BADGE CAPTURES THE FINALITY PURSE.

FEY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. Washington, Oct. 31.—The results of to-day's races are given in the appended summaries. It was a hard day for the favorities and a good one for the books. The friends of the Pittsburg Stable considered Brown Charlie a real old "lead-pipe cinch" in touching him. Mr. Kernaghan safd that the colt was not quite good enough for a bruising finish against easoned horses. The Judge confirmed this statement by sinishing last. The race lay between Glenmound and Vosburg from start to finish, the latter, well ridden by the younger Hayward, getting up in the last furlong and winning. If the elder Hayward had ridden Eolo with half the skill shown by his son on Vosburg, Eolo would certainly have beaten Defence for the place in the Finality. Hayward, senior, was caught napping at the start, being in the act of pulling up when the flag fell. Eolo thus got much the worst of a straggling start. But Hayward, instead of trying to mend matters, lay out of the roce until the colt was hopelessly distanced. In the stretch he showed a fine turn of speed, but it was impossible to make up the ground that had been lost. Badge handled his burden of 128 pounds as if it was a feather, winning under a double pull. Bessie June bled at the nose on Tuesday, having caught cold, and was never dangerous. Boaz, simply cause McLaughlin rode him, was fancied by many, but he was out-paced and out-classed. the fourth race under publishment after it had practically been given to Lafitte by the starter. Hercules remped over the steeplechase course and won at his

down, but both he and his horse escaped serious injury. Among the spectators were members of the Corean Embassy, whose curious dress attracted marked attention. The secretary of the legation nade the acquaintance of one or two bookmakers, leaving a small fee with each in exchange for a

Strange True Stories of Louisiana,

Collected by George W. Cable, author of "Old Creole Days." "The Grandissimes," etc., the first one of which and a chapter entitled "How I Got Them" appears in November. Some of these stories are merely transcribed or translated by Mr. Cable from the original manuscripts; otherware accurate narratives by him of actual occurrences. The remarkable series of papers which Mr. Gronge Kennan is now furnishing to The Centurar upon this important subject is attracting the attention of the civilized world, and the papers are being reprinted in hundreds of foreign journals in Europe and Asia, but are not allowed to enter Russia in any language. The San Francisco Chronicle says that, in these papers, "Mr. Kennan has lifted the veil and revealed a condition of affairs of which the outside world had no conception or realization." The November Century contains a strong paper in this series on "Political Exiles and Common Convicts at Tomsk," with interesting illustrations.

The authorized "Life of Lincoln." by his private secretaries, Messrs. Nicolay and Hay, now appearing in The Century, is holding the attention of thousands of readers. In the forthcoming chapters the authors will develop more fully the relations of the President with McClellan, Grant and other leading generals of the war, with the members of the cabinet and other prominent men. Lincoln's plan for the gradual abolishment of slavery will be fully explained.
